

BOY SCOUT TROOP ROCK CLIMBING CAMPOUT
APRIL 13, 14, & 15, 2007
CAMP CRAIG, DAYTON OHIO IN THE DAN BEARD COUNCIL, BSA

The troop will travel to southern Ohio for camping at Camp Craig, near Dayton, Ohio on Friday evening.

Saturday afternoon we will travel to the RockQuest Climbing Center, outside Cincinnati for some "rock climbing". You can visit their website at www.rockquest.com

Rock Quest is open to anyone of any age. They say upper body strength is not necessary to climb their walls. We will have to have three trained belayers, which Rock Quest will train (preferably adults).

The cost is $21.00 for youth and $24.00 for adults. This includes your camping fees, meals, and Rock Quest.

Rock Quest does have a waiver form that must be completed and sent with the participant. It is attached to this sign up and is on the troop's website. No one can participate without this form, whether you are climbing or not.

Since it's a three hour drive to the camp, we will need to leave Ashland by 5:30 p.m, which means everyone will need to be at the church by 5:00 p.m. You might bring a snack and drink for the ride down.

This would be a good time to wear the troop T shirts, so if you don't have one, you might get one before the trip.

The sign up form is due at the meeting on Monday, March 26th.
